Anne Steffny is currently a Director of Johannesburg Inner City Partnership, a special purpose vehicle established in 1996 to enable and manage various urban management and urban regeneration partnerships between The City of Johannesburg, Business and Community in the Inner City of Johannesburg. She was, for many years, a Director and shareholder of Kagiso Urban management, a company dedicated to the establishment and management of City Improvement Districts and sustainable Urban Management Institutions across Johannesburg. She now consults and mentors' communities throughout S.A, wishing to implement sustainable Urban Management Solutions and Partnerships. Together with others, she facilitated the establishment of the Mbombela Economic Development Partnership and until recently served on the Board. She served for 10yrs on the Board of the International Downtown Association (USA). Her passion is to work with both the public and private sector towards the development of "Special Places" and the sustainable Urban Management thereof and to that end established the Johannesburg CID Forum and lately the Gauteng Precinct Management Association who are currently in formal dialogue with National Treasury aimed at developing a national "Precinct Management Partnership" legislative framework .
